FEBRUARY MEETING: WHAT SHOULD THE COUNTY BE DOING ABOUT THE VEPCO SITE?

In last month's issue we discussed the status of the old Virginia Power substation site on Pershing Drive between 4th and 6th Streets (where the curve to Buchanan starts). Virginia Power has vacated the site because the substation was no longer needed. There is now a good-sized piece of land-about two building lots--located next to the County parkland which runs from Pershing Drive down to Four Mile Run.

Some BSCL members have noted that there is no paved access path for Barcroft residents to Four Mile Run between 9th Street South and Arlington Boulevard. The old VEPCO site might make an ideal place to start a trail down to Four Mile Run, and the BSCL has asked to County to consider purchasing the property. Our February 2nd meeting will be devoted to a discussion of that subject, and we hope to have a speaker from Parks to enlighten us.

Since this meeting will be held on Groundhog Day, there will probably be some discussion of whether or not we will have six more weeks of winter. (By tradition, spring is here if the Groundhog does not see its shadow.)

Don't miss the meeting. This is one meeting you can walk to if it snows! As always, the meeting starts at 7:30 PM on the first Thursday of the month, and is held at the Barcroft Community House, 800 South Buchanan Street. Look for Jack Taylor's signs on the morning of meeting day.

NATIONAL GUARD TO BEGIN CONSTRUCTION ON THEIR PIECE OF ARLINGTON HALL SITE

National Guard representatives came to our January meeting to present plans for their part of the Arlington Hall site (along George Mason Drive).

The Guard building will be their new national headquarters. It will be an office building, not an armory. The architecture will be modern and severe on the outside, but the main buildings will be only three stories, and partly screened from view by plantings.

There will be more greenery on the Guard's part of the site than at present. The barbed wire fence will be replaced by an ornamental case iron fence and plantings. The old temporary buildings will be razed.

There will be three entrances, two on George Mason and the other one from Arlington Boulevard. A total of 750 parking spaces will be provided, so the Guard employees will not be parking on Barcroft streets. The 400 cars using the George Mason entrances are not expected to disrupt traffic.

Construction on one building starts soon. The demolition of the old tempos will be a problem, since they contain asbestos and PCB's. The National Guard will return to a spring meeting of the BSCL to describe their plans for controlling environmental pollution during the demolition phase.

Next month we will have an update on the State Department's plans for its share of the site, which will cover a larger part than the National Guard buildings.

Preschool tips from Kathy Kerr:

NOW IS TIME TO SIGN UP FOR PRESCHOOL

Parents of preschoolers are probably aware that if their child will be attending preschool in the Fall, the time is NOW to get them signed up. There are quite a number of preschools available in Arlington with one of the finest right here in Barcroft.

Arlington Unitarian Church Preschool (AUCP) has been teaching children now for some 20 years. Ann Marie and Vinnie Millin on S. Pershing are one of many Barcroft families who have had children attend the school. Currently 4 year old Vickie is enrolled. Their older daughter Nina, now in 6th grade at Drew, is a graduate of AUCP.

Ann Marie says the school was started in 1969 as an extension of the church Sunday school program. A local pediatrician, Dr. Bridge, assisted the organization of the school and favored the Montessori approach. Montessori teaching involves a variety of play equipment to teach specific skills. The teacher is a guide. The present program is a known as "modified Montessori" which means the philosophy is a less rigid and there are more group activities.

Arlington's best playground is a part of the school. It is located behind the Unitarian Church building and was designed by parents and children working with well-known architect and designer Bob Leathers. Leathers has helped groups throughout the country to build ingenious, exceptionally fun playgrounds. The playground here in Barcroft was built in 1983. It was rather like an oldtime barn-raising with lots of people working together. A sign bearing Dr. Bridge's name dedicates the playground to him.

Ann Marie picked this school for her daughters in part because it is so nearby. But mainly what she likes are the excellent teachers and the stimulating projects and activities available. Being a co-operative school, there is considerable parent involvement. Parents are required to work frequently in their child's class-room. They also must volunteer for administrative positions. Like most families in the school, Ann Marie and Vinnie take turns fulfilling the requirements. If both parents are working full time, most will alternate taking time off from work to be a part of the school program.

The AUCP serves children age 2-5 with 2 and 3 day programs (9:30 am to 12:30 pm) and a 4th day enrichment class for children about to enter Kindergarten. 4 year old Vickie Millen says "school is fun" and she likes to do projects. She especially enjoyed making brass rubbings at the National Cathedral.

PROGRAMS FOR SENIOR ADULTS

Did you know about the County's fabulous program for senior adults? There are clubs, trips, workshops, lectures, music programs, dancing, films and a lot more.

The key to all this activity is a copy of the Senior Adult Newsletter, sent out monthly by the County just for senior adults. The newsletter lists activities for the month and upcoming trips you can sign up for. It has lots of chatty news about the many seniors clubs around the County. Senior adults can get on the mailing list for the newsletter by calling 358-4744.

One of the more interesting clubs is the Lubber Run Walking Club, which sponsors walking tours of various places on Wednesdays. Last month they visited Georgetown & Montrose Park, the George Washington Parkway Trail, the University of Maryland Campus, and a Monastery.

There were 19 trips scheduled for seniors in January, and 18 more for February. Each local area trip normally has a bus fee of $4 or $5, plus about $10 if the trip includes lunch, but low income seniors pay less. There are some longer trips too--including one this month to a Victorian Restaurant and Theatre in King of Prussia, Pa. ($36) and a big one to Disneyworld for a week at $765. You have to sign up for most trips in advance.

Other programs include classes on knitting, dancing, literature, oil painting, sewing, crocheting, sign language, bridge, crafts, Sparish, yoga, cooking, woodcarving, quilting, writing, and stone carving. You can play billiards, ping pong, dominoes, bingo, golf, chess and checkers. You can hear lectures about cholesterol, Altzheimers, travel spots, meditation, Medicare claims, and Elderhostling. There is more, but we're out of space.

If you are a senior and some of these activities interest you, call 358-4744 for the Senior Adult Newsletter.

On Wednesday evening, September 23, a beautiful wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. Wm. H. Palmer, when his daughter, Miss Nettie Palmer, became the wife of Mr. Charles Roy Pritchard. The bride was magnificently gowned in French mull over white silk and carried bride roses. The ceremony was performed by Roy. Mr. Grav. of Mount Olivet Church, of Ballston. The spacious parlors were beautifully decorated with ferns. palms, potted plants and trailing vines. The Lohengrin Wedding March was rendered by Miss Zodie Finnell, aunt to the groom. PERSONAL.

Monsieur M. DuPerow and Mrs. Parker Cutter spent Sunday, the 20th, at Klemwood.

Mr. Wallace Wright, of Forest Glen, Md., spent last week with Mr. S. P. Wright.

Mr. Chewning counted the fics between Glen Carlyn and Bar-croft a few evenings ago, on the way to Palmer's hill, and said he was willing to travel many miles farther to reach the habitat of a certain young lady.

Miss Elizabeth Frank, from Stannton, Va., is a guest of Mrs.

S. P. Wright.

Gen. S. S. Burdette, we are glad to announce, is convalescent and has gone to Atlantic City for a short rest. The General had rather a closs call from ptomaine poisoning and was confined to his bed for nine weeks. The boys on the train first were under the impression that the General was trying to delige the heared debates with a certain constitutional "argufyer" and all around debater during the heated term.

Miss Emma Pelham has returned to Kleinberg college, in Nolson county, Va., where she will graduate next Jane. We hope to have her with us next year. Miss Emma was a very pleasant and agreeable addition to the "younger set" at Barcroft during the past summer.

Master Swart Dewey, of Washington, has been visiting Mrs. Klemroth at Klemwood.

Rev. Mr. Stokely filled the pulpit at Arlingion yesterday.

Mrs. Walter Palmer, of Herndon, and Mrs. War Sherman, of Boston, are Mrs. W. H. Palmer's guests.

There are meetings of joy And partings of grief. An inconstant lover Is worse than a thief.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL OF BARCROFT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

As the new year begins, Barcroft staff and students anticipate it eagerly as an extension to the successful past four months. During the fall, students participated in a variety of enjoyable educational activities. Field trips to the Outdoor Laboratory facility (some for an overnight stay), stargazing at the planetarium, performances at the Kennedy Center and Ford's Theater and a special trip to Henderson Hall for a Halloween party were some of the many off-campus learning experiences.

At school we used computer and video activities to supplement regular academic work, enriching and teaching each student. This past grading period we had 79 Barcroft Honor Roll students. We are very proud of the efforts of each Barcroft student.

At a recent School Board meeting an architectural feasibility study was presented to the School Board for consideration. The study contained suggestions for possible renovations and/or new construction for Barcroft. The architects completing the study are experienced in working with school staff and communities on school modifications. The architects recognized immediately the landmark status of the Barcroft School building, especially the 1924 structure. Anyone interested in further details should contact me at Barcroft.

Barcroft is a wonderful place full of activity and learning. Volunteers are always welcomed. Please contact Shirley Stovall at Barcroft if you are interested in volunteering.

MORE BABIES! AND THANKS TO THE CHRISTMAS BAND

Back in December, neighbors on Pershing Drive were on pins and needles waiting for two families to have babies.

Maureen Locke and Susan Kelly were due one day apart--December 7th and 8th--dates the babies simply ignored.

Susan's baby decided to come a little early on November 30 while Maureen waited and waited until December 18th!

Susan Kelly and her husband Iles Minoff are the proud parents of Anne. Anne's big sisters are Alexandra age 10 and Elisa age 6 who attend Holy Trinity School down in Georgetown. Married for three years, Iles and Susan moved to Barcroft 2 years ago from Arlington Forest. They enjoy the neighbors here in Barcroft and love the convenient location, good services and the Arlington county government.

Susan and Iles describe themselves as "leftovers from the 60's." Iles works for the AFL-CIO. Susan is an attorney with a small firm in DC specializing in energy law. Returning to work in March, she will be blazing a trail as the first woman, mother and part time employee at her job. Good luck!

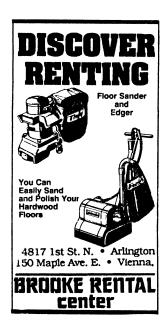

Down the street a bit, Maureen Locke and Steve Wilson are enjoying their little Rebecca June. Their first daughter Lauren, age 4, loves to help with the new baby. Steve and Maureen have been married for 6 1/2 years and moved to Barcroft 6 years ago. Maureen is a dentist with an office in McLean. Steve is an assistant professor of anatomy at Howard University. They both enjoy playing guitar and joined in the Barcroft Christmas band!

By the way thanks to all the merry participants in the Barcroft Christmas Band. Fun was had by all--musicians and singers alike. Toni Copeland did a fine job of directing a rather unlikely assortment of instruments dusted off just for this occasion. Al Copeland strummed the mandolin, Barbara Swart joined Maureen and Steve on guitar, John Ames and Jack Turner blew their trumpets, Jim Lande tooted his clarinet, Randy Swart "serenaded" with his bagpipe, Michael Nazaretz squeezed some fine accordion and I sawed on the violin. There was a hot trombone in there too. It was all not to be forgotten--join us next year if you missed it. Also, we are all looking forward to the Barcroft 4th of July parade and celebration. Perhaps the "Barcroft 4th of July Band" will make its appearance. There must be lots more musicians out there who would like to join in, so tune up that old instrument and get ready!

New neighbors, babies, grandchildren weddings, Bar Mitzvahs, anecdotes, anniversaries, talents, memories? Help Kathy keep up-to-date in the new year on Barcrofters and their big events. Call her at 892-6458.
